Conference Center

Vidago Palace's special event facilities are located in the Conference Center a magnificent separate building at the entrance of the Palace's Park, where Vidago's original thermal spa facilities were housed mid 30's. With high ceilings and parkland views, The Conference Center's rooms and reception areas are ideal for any occasion. Recently refurbished to Vidago Palace's exacting standards, the Conference Center offers several rooms of different sizes which can be interconnected or used alone to meet specific requirements. An impressive 254 seat theatre-style auditorium featuring the latest technology is particularly well suited to large conferences, medical symposiums, product and film launches, concerts and recitals.

Renowned for its spring waters since the 17th century, the sleepy town of Vidago is nestled in an area of northern Portugal Known as tras-os-montes or 'beyond the mountains'.

The Douro Valley – The Home of Port Wine

The nearby Douro Valley is the home of port wine, where hills covered with vined-terraces fall steeply down to river banks, and placards bearing world famous names such as Taylors, Cockburns and Sandeman are commonplace. Visits to vineyards & cellars, port tastings can be happily arranged to the delight of aficionados.

The Douro Valley – An Area of Natural Beauty

While port and wine production draws international attention, it is the area's natural beauty which deserves the greatest praise. Making its way through the highlands of Spain and Portugal, the Douro River cuts through spectacular ravines and canyons and eventually settles into a large, languid waterway surrounded by scenic hills. Those wishing to explore by car will find breathtaking views at the rugged hilltops, while river cruises provide a more relaxed touring option. The valley's lush scenery varies according to the season, with vines taking on their magnificent red and golden hues in autumn, and almond blossom casting an enchanting white-pinkish tone in February and March.
